GLOBAL Wins Contract to Support FBI Investigative Data Warehouse

MCLEAN, Va., October 14, 2009 – The Analysis Corporation (GLOBAL TAC), the Intelligence Solutions business of Global Strategies Group \(North America\) Inc., (GLOBAL North America) recently won a multi-million dollar contract to provide operations and maintenance (O&M), user support and product development for the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Investigative Data Warehouse (IDW).

Leveraging its deep domain expertise to deliver actionable intelligence, GLOBAL TAC will ensure that the IDW is maintained in a steady state, with minimal loss of service or performance degradation; optimize data relevance and assist users with complex and sophisticated queries; use agile development methodology to ensure IDW remains in excellent working condition; and provide full program management support to the project to ensure well-coordinated system operations.

Alex Drew, President of GLOBAL TAC noted, "We are excited by this opportunity to bring the full breadth of our systems integration and analytical expertise to further enhance the critical national security mission of the IDW."

The IDW is a repository of the FBI's intelligence and investigative information and is a critical component of its efforts to collect, manage and utilize information within the Bureau and numerous intelligence and law enforcement entities.
